

War correspondents from Rowan county, who are trying to paint all the Toliver family as demons, are requested to desist. In this county lives Daniel Toliver, who is an industrious and inoffensive citizen. In Morgan county, and only about eight miles distant, lives Wm. Toliver, a merchant, and we venture the assertion that Morgan county does not contain a more law-abiding and better citizen. Andy Toliver, wounded in the fight at Morehead, is a son of the latter gentleman's, and stands well in the estimation of all who know him. The two former are brothers of Craig, killed in last Wednesday's fight at Morehead.
